DNA typing of the sire, dam, and foal is required through the University of Kentucky for a foal to be registered. The procedure is to send a DNA Testing form with the hair sample and check to the registrar. The Registrar then sends the sample to UK and they return a report to the registrar. If requested, a copy of that report is sent to the owner of the pony. The registrar can only send the report to the pony's owner. The sire and dam of a foal must have been DNA typed through the University of Kentucky for that foal to be registered in the DPRA studbook. Five photos of the pony are required with the application. Instructions are below.

Please be advised that The Dartmoor Pony Registry of America (DPRA) serves as the official keeper of registration records for the purpose of maintaining accurate pedigrees and breeding records. Although the current owner should be listed on the Registration Certificate, it is not to be used as proof of legal ownership or title to the pony named therein. Likewise, the Transfer of Ownership certificate is not to be an adjudication of legal ownership or title to said pony. All parties to this registration or transfer have read this statement and agree to hold the DPRA harmless and indemnify the DPRA in any and all legal disputes to which the DPRA is made a party.
